

GOOD CLINTON HORSE TROTS A HARD RACE.

Henry Cheesman's Abnet Trots Before Many Friends.

Fine Day's Sport At The Track This Afternoon And a Good Crowd Present—Joe Patchen's Fast Mile Breaks Records—The Events Set For Tomorrow Bring Out Some Speedy Flyers—The List of Entries.

URELY the weather clerk is in sympathy with the managers of the Janesville trotting meeting, although the rain, that would help the track materially and give the sprinkling cart a rest, was not forthcoming. Yet the hot rays of the sun, that would be conducive to faster time had been tempered by a cool breeze and a cloudy sky that made the spectators more comfortable if it was not as good for the horses. They called the horses promptly this afternoon as the long program made it necessary and last night's events had not been finished until after 8 o'clock.

Much of today's local interest centered in the 2:38 class trotting, as Abnet, owned by Henry Cheesman of Clinton, was on the card to start. At Davenport, Abnet reeled off three heats in 2:10 1/4, 2:10 1/4 and 2:10 1/4, each heat, it will be noticed, being a quarter of second faster than the one preceding it, beating a good field. This gives the Clinton horse an honest reputation as a race horse and made the admiration for the dilly well founded. The Corporal and Trotwood, both won their race at the "other town." At Red Oak. The Corporal won his race rather easily, making his miles in 2:14, 2:17 1/2 and 2:17 1/2. Trotwood at Dubuque won his race, his best time being 2:15 1/2. In this race Abnet got third money, Grace Darling, who is also entered here, winning the first heat in 2:19 1/4, and getting second money. Thus the friends of Abnet realized that the good Clinton horse would be called upon to march fast, but they had all confidence in the horse owned by their neighbor, Mr. Cheesman. The other entries were as follows: Packet, entered by T. Atwood, Fremont, Neb.; First Born, G. L. Andrews Mukwanago Wis.; Burr Oak, Burr Oak Farm, Harvard, Mich.; Dr. Cronin, F. H. Colby, Minneapolis; Frontier D., F. H. Colby; The Corporal C. E. Morris, Columbus Neb.; Godella, E. H. Cunningham Nervell, Ia.; Abnet, H. Cheesman, Clinton Wis.; Joe Mark, W. B. Storts, Slater, Mo.; Valley Queen, S. S. Gorton, Gretna, Ill.; Kate C., John Cuddemore St. Louis, Mo.; Normand, Keystone Farm, Omaha, Neb.; Glenmore, A. H. Leman, La Crosse; Hazel C. C. McDonald, Mineral Point, Wis.; Trotwood, M. E. McHenry, Freeport, Wis.; Newton & Palmer, Darlington, Wis.; Prince Allerton, T. J. Pollock, Iowa Falls, Iowa; Patti Clark, Rody Patterson, Cleveland, Ohio; Nellie Chatterton, Scott's stock farm, Centerville, Iowa; Lillie Glenn, J. G. Taylor, St. Louis, Mo.; Roena, J. G. Taylor, St. Louis; Rarity, Riverside Park Farm, Berlin, Wis.; Director Chief, H. D. McKinney; May Belle, W. H. Bell, Gordonville, Alabama; Biwabic, D. W. Rowland, Oshkosh, Wis.; Pat L. J. W. Nash, St. Louis and Astelline, Kalamazoo, Farm, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

They did not all start, but the summary stood as follows:

JOE PATCHEN'S MILE IN 2:04 3-4.

It Broke the Best Track and State Records.

Janesville people saw Joe Patchen pace the best mile yet made on Wisconsin soil yesterday and they appreciated the sight fully. When the black wonder was brought out he was loudly applauded and Driver Curry bowed his acknowledgements. A warning up mile was given in 2:08 1/4 going the first quarter in 32 1/2. After two heats had been gotten off he came out again and on the third score Driver Curry nodded. "Go!" called starting Judge McKinney and fifty watches started with a click. With his ears cocked forward and apparently enjoying his brush as much as the audience did, the coal black pacer flew. The first quarter pole was reached in 30 1/2 seconds, the half mile in 1:02 1/2, the three quarters in 1:33 1/2 and the mile in 2:04 3/4. A mighty cheer greeted the handsome animal as he sped under the wire.

Was a Remarkable Mile.

The mile was a remarkable one and horsemen said that it was equal to 2:02 1/2 on either the LaCrosse or Davenport track, as the course was not in good condition and a strong wind blew on the stretches. This was the best time yet made in Wisconsin and lowered the Janesville track record, for an exhibition mile, from 2:10 to 2:04 3/4, the former time having been made by Jay Eye See some years ago. In announcing the result starting, Judge McKinney said that Joe Patchen had even beaten Robert J., and that his owner, Col. John G. Taylor of St. Louis, had any amount of money to wager that he could do it again. Mr. Taylor nodded his head at this announcement, while Driver Curry smiled grimly and said "that's right."

Joe holds the Texas record of 2:07 1/2, the Pacific coast record, and is the only stallion that ever went a mile in 2:08 in June.

He drives with a plain snaffle bit open bridle, five ounce shoe in front, two and one-half behind, no weight, quarter, coronet and knee boots of light material, simply as a precaution. His daily work is from five to six slow miles with an occasional breezer down between 2:10 and 2:30. During his 1894 campaign he earned $17,500.

THE ENTRIES FOR TOMORROW.

2:10 Pacing, 2:20 Pacing, 2:25 Trotting and Two-Year Old Classes.

Tomorrow's card is a rich one. No race during the meeting, unless it be the 2:12 trotting class has awakened so much interest as the 2:10 pace. In it are fifteen speedy side wheelers and fast time is looked for. Fido has paced a race this season in 2:05 1/2, while all the others have been going like the wind. The entries were: H. S. Lawbaugh, Stuart, Ia., ch h, Rocky P.; W. L. Elwood, DeKalb, Ill., gr w, Belle Mahone; L. J. B. Easton, Rochester, Minn., br g, Badger; W. J. Hay, Oshkosh, b g, Albert E.; Hill Sock Farm, Dallas, Texas, bk f, Lena Hill; E. Jewett, Wellington, Kansas, b g, Tom Ogden; M. E. McHenry, Freeport, b c, Symboler; G. C. Joslyn, Oshkosh, gr g, Two Strike; Oaklawn Farm Menominee, Wis., bk m, Vera Capel; Rivenburg & Son, Cedar Falls, Ia., b h, Fido; Ross & Dickerson, Madison.

STAMBULOFF DYING OF HIS WOUNDS

THE EX-PREMIER OF BULGARIA ASSASSINATED.

Four Men Armed With Revolvers and Knives Made the Assault—Government Organ had Accused Him of Being a Spy—Personal Vengeance Plays a Part.

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 16.—The condition of ex-Premier Stambuloff, who was stabbed and shot last night, is growing worse this afternoon, and no hope of his survival is entertained. M. Stambuloff was attacked by four persons armed with revolvers and knives. M. Stambuloff received several wounds in the head, and lost a quantity of blood. His condition is serious.

Several arrests have been made. There is great indignation felt in the city. The attack was made on a frequented street. It is generally remarked now that the last number of the government newspaper organ, Mir, violently attacked M. Stambuloff, accusing him of being a foreign spy. The outrage is believed to be the personal vengeance of persons who suffered during his regime as premier.

London, July 16.—A dispatch from Sofia says that both of M. Stambuloff's hands have been amputated. One of his assailants was wounded.

HORR-HARVEY DEBATE.

Great Interest Taken in the Meeting of the Two Champions.

Chicago, July 16.—The Horr-Harvey debate on the silver question, which opens to-day at 2 o'clock at the Illinois club, promises, from all arrangements and from the new plan of controversy upon which it is to be conducted, to be one of the most satisfactory means of settling before the world both sides of a question which affects all nations and which interests every man of thought. The debate will probably last ten days, beginning at 2 o'clock every day except Sunday and lasting two hours and forty minutes, until 140,000 words have been spoken or until one side gives up. No such debate has ever been planned before. One combatant leads off with a thrust of 1,000 words at his opponent. Three minutes are allowed the man on defense to rally. Then he is expected to make good his defense and lead the assault with another 1,000-word volley. After this round each fighter must stand up to three questions which may be put by those backing his opponent.

Eastern financiers think it will be the most singular and eventful debate of the century, and count upon a victory over free silver. Invitations have been issued to 1,000 persons and admission will be strictly by card. Only 200 seats are available, but it is not expected that more than that number will be on hand at successive bouts.

SILVER MEN SCORE A POINT.

Missouri Democratic Committee Calls a State Convention for Aug. 6.

St. Louis, Mo., July 16.—By a vote of 12 to 2 the Democratic State Central Committee decided to call a State silver convention similar to that recently held in Illinois. The convention will be held at Pertle Springs. The date fixed was August 6. June 1 the committee met and voted 10 to 5 against holding a convention to consider the financial question and this change has been brought about by the friends of silver, who have been agitating the question ever since and who claim that the Democrats of the State demand it. The committee fixed the basis of representation in the convention at one delegate to every 500 votes and fraction over 250 of the Cleveland vote of 1892. This will make a convention of about 600 delegates. The chairman and secretary were then instructed to prepare and issue the official call.

Woman to Be Electrocutted.

New York, July 16.—The jury in the Barberi case returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. Maria Barberi is the young woman who murdered Dominico Cataldo, alleging that the man had betrayed her under promise of marriage, which promise he refused to keep. Maria broke down several times in court during the recital of the crime. Unless she receives favorable action from the Governor, she will be the first woman to be executed by electricity.

Cruiser Still Missing.

Port Townsend, Wash., July 16.—The continued non-arrival of the United States revenue launch, Black Pup, from Roche Harbor, occasions a general belief that the little vessel has been swamped in the straits. She left Roche Harbor Thursday last, and although the trip usually consumes but eight hours, no report of the launch has been received. Searching parties have been sent out. If nothing is reported soon the fleet of searching vessels now out under command of Frank Tuttle will be doubled.

The English Elections.

London, July 16.—The total results of the Parliamentary elections, for which returns have been made are as follows: Conservatives, 151; Liberal Unionists, 21; Liberals, 23; Parnellites, 4; McCarthyites, 4; Labor 1. Total, 204. As compared with the Parliament which has just been dissolved, twenty-four seats thus returned shows gains for the Unionists and five are gains for the Liberals.

Cubans Buy Dynamite Balloons.

New York, July 16.—After a test of dynamite balloons, which is claimed to be successful, the New York Cuban Libre Club placed in the hands of the manufacturers a large order for balloons and rockets, with a full complement of dynamite cartridges, to be ready for shipment July 25th.

JOHN L. TO FIGHT AGAIN

Says He Is Willing To Challenge The Winner of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons Mill.

Halifax, July 16.—John L. Sullivan says he will challenge the winner of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight. He talks as if very much in earnest.

Austin, Texas, July 16.—Officials say the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight will not be permitted in the state as both public sentiment and law are opposed.

Toledo, O., July 16.—The Ann Arbor Railway officials here have assented to a proposition made by Toledo sporting men to allow the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fist encounter to take place on their two big transfer boats, used for ferrying the loaded trains across Lake Michigan. Each is 260 feet wide, and the plan is to have the two boats lashed stem to stem. Four thousand people could thus witness the fight. The Toledo projectors of the scheme are in communication with the backers of the two athletes.

OREGON STAGE ROBBED

Highwaymen Hold Up the Wilhart Mail and Plunder Two Passengers.

Portland, Oregon, July 16.—Highwaymen held up the Wilhart stage today and robbed two passengers.

CLOSE OF THE ENGLAVOR WORK

Last Day of the Great Boston Convention Was a Notable One.

Boston, July 16.—The fact that the great Christian Endeavor convention is drawing to a close did not in the least abate the enthusiasm with which the delegates participated in the proceedings of the last day of the great gathering of Christian young people that has ever yet been held. "Consecration" was the central thought in the score or more prayer meetings that began at 6:30 and was in fact the principal subject of the day. The attendance at all the morning meetings was as large as any day last week. The addresses of President George A. Gates, D. D., Iowa college, and President Elbert D. Warfield, LL. D., of Easton, Pa., in Tent Williston were the features of the morning. The former spoke of the "Consecration of an Educated Life" and was followed by his great audience with close attention. President Warfield's address was on "The Attractions of the Ministry to Educated Men." At Tent Endeavor an address by Robert E. Speer of New York on the missionary service proved a great drawing card. In the morning meetings in both tents were conducted under the general title "The Scholarship of the World for Christ." At Tent Williston and Mechanics' hall encouraging reports concerning the religious life in colleges were made and in both the tents and the hall the roll of honor upon which were inscribed the names of the unions whose members have been able to give liberally to the cause was simultaneously unrolled. These exercises were accompanied by suitable addresses. The presentation of a banner to the local union for the best work in promoting systematic and proportionate giving was made at Mechanics' building and Tent Williston. The praise and song services at the big meetings were, as they have been since the opening of the convention, full of snap, energy, and earnestness. The aggregate attendance was about 23,000. The regular noon evangelistic service attracted crowds of workers, who joined in the praise with a seriousness that seemed to indicate regret that it was the last day of the convention.

W. G. Puddlefoot, talking on "National Needs and Perils," said that during the last twelve years 50,000 people have been killed by violence in our own land and not more than 5 per cent of the guilty ones had suffered the extreme penalty of the law. The record of homicide has risen from 1,467 in 1882 to 9,800 in 1894. In twenty years over twenty-six thousand children had been abandoned by their mothers in New York. He attributed the real cause of so much crime to the scarcity of churches. "The Christian Personality" was the subject of the address of J. H. W. Stuckenburgh. Miss Ellen D. McLaurin delivered a ten-minute address in Mechanics' hall, in the course of which she said: "Christian Endeavorers have not only given their money and their prayers, but thousands have looked into the face of the world's Savior and have asked: 'Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?' And this morning from the east and the west, from the north and the south, from away in the heart of Asia, down in Africa and across in Europe, comes our rallying cry, 'For Christ and the church,' and people, tribes and tongues are hearing in their own language the wonderful works of God."

The Rev. Ira Landrith, of Nashville, read the roll of honor. Nineteen hundred dollars, given by the Clarendon Street Church of Boston, was the largest sum reported.

Dean Alfred A. Wright, D. D., of Auburndale, spoke on "The Bible the Great Text Book." "Back to the little red school-house," he exclaimed, "must the bible go and Christian consecration to God and men will soon put it there. Sabbath-schools," continued the speaker, "must be made more systematic, and should co-ordinate to the great text book study, and we shall then begin to find out what God is trying to say to us."

Young Kay, a Chinese minister, conducted an open-air meeting in Chinatown, speaking in Chinese, and was assisted in singing by several young women from Illinois and California. Noonday meetings were also held at several missions and Faneuil Hall and in a rubber factory in Franklin street. The afternoon was devoted to visiting the many historic shrines of the city. Addresses were made at Bunker Hill by prominent members of the order.

New York, July 16.—In all probability the trial for the international yacht race will be held from August 10 to August 12.

VACAVILLE SHUT IN BY TIMBER FIRES

CALIFORNIA SUFFERS BY TIMBER FLAMES.

Rain Ends Trouble in the Forests Around Nirvana—People Fought Hard All One Day—Four Hundred Men Turned Out in Burlington, Michigan.

Sacramento, Cal., July 16.—A large stretch of country around Vacaville is on fire and the town is in danger.

Detroit, Mich., July 16.—The forest fires which have been raging in the State the last week, have been the most destructive in the last decade. Whole counties have been swept clean. For thirty-six hours the inhabitants of Nirvana on the Flint and Pere Marquette fought the flames. The sun and stars were hidden by the smoke, which was so dense that it was almost suffocating. Returns received from Rose City, Midland, Holton, Greenville, Bad Ax and Burlington all relate the same story of ceaseless vigilance and hard work. In Burlington 400 men fought for hours to protect their homes, and all through the northern section of the southern peninsula wives and children helped to save property. Last night heavy showers are reported all over the State and the worst is over.

LUSCOMBE MURDER TRIAL.

Accused Man Tells How He Killed Emil Sanger of Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 16.—In the Luscombe murder trial the defense began the introduction of its evidence yesterday. The first witness was William Sanger, a brother of the dead man, and he testified that his brother carried a revolver and a dirk. The accused man began his evidence by telling of receiving a note on the night of the killing from his father saying that his sister Nellie (the wife of Emil Sanger) had come home bruised and battered. The note told him to come to the house at once and to come armed. He went, and while watching in the dining room Emil Sanger appeared. Describing what followed Luscombe said: "A voice said: 'D— you, open up there.' The voice was that of Emil Sanger. He saw me and instantly his hand was raised. I threw the gun to my shoulder and fired, and that is all I remember. I believed that he had a revolver in his hand."

HARD FIGHTING IN CUBA.

Insurgents Burn the Village of Provincioz in Santa Clara.

Havana, July 16.—Maj. Arminian of the civil guard, with fifty infantry and sixty cavalry at Investa Hermosa, district of Sancti Spiritus, province of Santa Clara, was attacked by the insurgents forming the bands of Zayas, Legon and Toledo and numbering 500. After an hour's fighting the insurgents were obliged to retire, leaving twenty killed and forty wounded on the field. Chief Legon was wounded. Of the troops four were killed and nine wounded. A band of insurgents numbering 400, entered the village of Provincioz, on the province of Santa Clara, and tried to burn the barracks of the civil guards. The soldiers made a valorous defense, and killed ten of the insurgents. The insurgents proved unable to take the detachment of troops and burned the village.

CASH RUNNING SHORT.

Lack of Funds at Springfield, Ill., for Legislative Expenses.

Springfield, Ill., July 16.—There were only forty-six members of the house present at the session yesterday and no business was done except to introduce a bill. A. J. Jones (dem.) of Cook introduced a libel bill extending the operation of the principle involved in the bill that passed at the regular session. The appropriation for the payment of employees of the general assembly is exhausted. In fact, there was not quite enough to meet the claims that fell due yesterday. Governor Altgeld does not anticipate any trouble on that score, however. He says he is willing to enlarge the scope of the call for the special session if need be in order to enable the general assembly to make an appropriation to pay its employees.

Father's Murderous Work.

Kewanee, Ill., July 16.—Sunday William De Bates, a dissolute Belgian living north of this town, put on his wife's red dress and also put on her headgear and disguised himself with hair resembling his wife's. He then attempted to kill his children with a hatchet. The children were deceived and at first swore it was their mother, but now they see their mistake when certain particulars have been pointed out to them. De Bates has fled and cannot be found, and his little girl whose testimony against him was most damaging, has mysteriously disappeared and no trace of her whereabouts has come to light. It is thought that some of De Bates' friends have kidnapped her and are keeping her in hiding. One of the children cannot live, having a terrible fracture in the skull.

Bomb Thrower a Lunatic.

Columbus, O., July 16.—The mystery of the attempt to blow up the residence of Jerry P. Bliss, director of public improvements in this city, has been solved. The guilty man is George K. Karlberger. He said that Mr. Bliss had annoyed him by sticking electric needles in his eyes, and that he had carried the Bliss family for eighteen months. His story showed that other prominent families had narrow escapes. Karlberger intended to blow up the residences of Colonel G. S. Innis, one of the most prominent citizens of the county, and Mr. J. L. Mauch, a wealthy sand dealer, but he had but $1, and the four dynamite bombs bought with that were all used on the Bliss residence and the church adjoining.

COUNCIL WILL NOT GRANT A LICENSE

NOMORE RETAILING AT BUOB'S BREWERY.

Water Works Suit Hinging Fire—Repository for City Material—Contract Let for Grading Fifth Avenue—New Library Trustees Named—Assessment Rolls Filed.

By unanimous vote the common council last evening refused to grant a license to Buob Brothers to run a saloon in connection with their brewery at the foot of South Main street. This was for the reason that the location was outside the police surveillance. This was a step by the council to keep the saloons concentrated within a smaller circle. The vote being unanimous gives indication that the decision will govern in future, and that no licenses will be granted outside certain districts. Ryan & Brown were awarded the contract to grade Fifth avenue, at 70 1-2 cents per cubic yard, they being the only bidders for the work. George L. Carrington, Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy and Mrs. W. G. Butler, were appointed by Mayor Baines as trustees of the public library to succeed themselves, and were confirmed.

Progress in the Water Works Case.

Alderman Smith of the special committee presented the following statement of the water works case which was received and placed on file.

We, the undersigned members of the special committee to which the statement of the Janesville Water Company filed April 8, 1895, was referred, desire to call the attention of the council to the fact that the committee has not reported as yet, owing to the absence of Alderman Heddles. We desire further to call the attention of the council to the fact that the Janesville Water Company does not pretend to have given to the council a complete statement of the cost of the water works in this city. They say in their report: "The subsequent cost of this plant, which has been borne by the water company itself, can, of course, be readily stated and verified from the books of the Janesville Water Company." If the committee is to examine any statement it should have a complete statement of the cost. They say further: "In the statement which is herewith submitted, there is included no interest and no expenses of running the plant. The committee believes that this should be completed before a final report is made upon this matter. The water company's rights and the city's rights became fixed when the water company filed its first statement in pursuance of the request of the city, and we do not desire to have those rights varied. But if this matter is to be arrived at by adjustment, we should have a complete statement of the basis on which the city is to take the works according to the theories of the water company. If the Janesville water company desire to make this complete statement, it should be made before the return of Alderman Heddles, so that the matter can be examined immediately upon his return."

Bad Road Near the Arch.

A communication was read from W. B. Stoddard, complaining on account of the bad condition of Western avenue from Center avenue west to the arch, and suggesting that the sand be removed. The paper was placed in the hands of the Fifth ward aldermen. A communication was read from John H. Myers, stating that he put the sewer pipe in the city sewer on East Milwaukee street, under an order from the common council; referred to the highway committee. The report of the board of directors of the public library, was read and referred to the committee on schools. The report appears in another column. The assessment rolls for the year 1895, was presented by the clerk and referred to the judiciary committee.

Alderman Hemming of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing a large number of bills against the several funds, which was concurred in.

Alderman Sutherland, of the license committee, reported in favor of granting a license to Miles Cox, which was adopted; also adversely to Buob Bros. at their brewery on South Main street, for the reason that the location was outside the surveillance of the police. Report unanimously approved and license refused.

Sewer Committee Almost Ready.

Alderman Burnham, of the sewer committee, stated that his committee would make a report as soon as the city at once could procure all the amendments to the uniform charter law adopted at the last session of the legislature, that it was necessary to procure and compare these amendments before any action could be taken.

Mayor Baines called the attention of the council to the manner in which city property was appropriated, making special reference to the fact that some 30,000 feet of lumber had been taken away from the Jackson street bridge, and that he instructed the chief of police to notify the parties that carried this lumber away that they would be prosecuted unless it was returned immediately. He thought the city should provide a place where city property of all kinds could be stored and cared for. Alderman Winslow moved that the street commissioner be directed to take as much of the lumber as was deemed suitable for city purposes, and that he sell the balance, turning the proceeds over to the city treasurer. Alderman Burnham thought the motion should be general, and cover the stone taken from the stone crosswalks. The motion of Alderman Winslow was adopted, being supplemented by Alderman Hemming's motion that a suitable site for a repository be found.

Long String of Orders Adopted.

Orders were adopted as follows: By Alderman McLean—Directing the fire and water committee to repair the Fourth ward drinking fountain. By Alderman Winslow—Giving F. H. Baack permission to occupy portion of Division street for storing building material during the construction of his new residence; also to repair Racine street from Ringgold street, and that the chairman of the fire and water committee be directed to buy two patent gas burners for use in the city hall. By Alderman Hemming—That the highway and bridge committee make all necessary repairs to Fourth avenue bridge. By Alderman Kothman—For block cross walk across Center street on east side of High street. By Alderman Stearns—For block crosswalks across Race street, east side of High; across Wall street east side of High; and that the street commissioner serve notice for the building of side walk on part of lot 14 Mitchell addition, on North Academy street. By Alderman Laman—To repair Milton avenue at the intersection of Milwaukee avenue. By Alderman Burnham—For crosswalks across Glen street at Cornelia; across Cornelia at Glen; across Hyatt at Sarah; across Prospect avenue at Milton avenue, between Prospect avenue and Milwaukee avenue, using blocks from Fourth avenue bridge; also that the city engineer file profile and grade specifications for the new grade of Hyatt street.

Mayor Baines stated that the tax levy would be made at the next meeting and suggested that the several committees get together and settle upon the amounts necessary to be raised for each department, so that all would be understood at the meeting. The council adjourned.

RECORD BROKEN.

Two Hundred and Sixty-Eight Patients Consult Dr. Ego at the Park Hotel.

People of all races and ages come to see this great healer to get cured. Mr. John Kruse, an ex-policeman of this city, who has been a sufferer from rheumatism and paralysis, was given one single treatment yesterday and expressed himself as highly pleased with the effects from this first treatment.

The doctor treats rheumatism, paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, heart and stomach troubles and diseases of both sexes. A lady in attendance.

Remember the doctor's office hours at the Park hotel, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., daily. Examinations and consultations free at all times. Offices on the ground floor.

Remember the doctor will lecture again this evening at 8 o'clock, at the corn exchange, on "Anatomy," which will be very instructive to young and old. Fully 2,000 people were out to hear him last night.

Keep Them Neat.

Torn up the back? Well then, get to Baack's at once and purchase the child another waist. You can afford it and the boy must be kept neat.

15 cents for a waist.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

HONESTY is conceded by almost everybody as the best policy. Dishonest methods of advertising while it might get our net for a time with suckers, it would surely be unprofitable in the end. If we told you that we would sell you a shoe that cost to make at the factory $1 00 for $2 00 and then sold you a regular $2 00 shoe you would at once see the deception some day. Such advertisements are misleading. Brown Bros & Lincoln.

Did you ask what that handsome turnout was? It undoubtedly is a Henney and you can see a large line of the same high grade vehicle at F. A. Taylor's.

GAIN OF 1081 BOOKS BY THE LIBRARY

LENDING FIGURES MUCH LOWER THAN A YEAR AGO.

Small Boys no Longer Allowed to Take Two Books a Day in Strife For a "Record"—Much Money Could Be Used to Advantage During The Year.

There were drawn from the public library last year 27,212 books. The largest number drawn out in one day was 270; the smallest number was 31. The number of volumes taken out in circulation during the year is much smaller than that for the year ending June 30, 1894, but this falling off is attributed to a change of rules which prevents young children drawing one and sometimes even two books a day in striving for a big record. The reading room has found steady use and has done much to prove the value of the library. The report acknowledges the receipt of 963 books by purchase, 117 volumes from Mrs. L. J. Barrows and one from Frederick Roesling, making the present number on the catalogue 9,639. A year's subscription to Munsey's magazine was given by Walter Fifield and a large reference atlas by the Business Men's association. The directors say:

It has been the rule of the library to destroy all books that were out and in the hands of any persons living in any house that the board of health may have found necessary to place under quarantine, and we have found it necessary to destroy twelve such volumes in the past year. No other books have been lost to the library and all those reported missing at the time of our last annual report are subsequently found and returned.

The duties of librarian have been faithfully performed by Mrs. Best, whose untiring services are appreciated by the board of directors as well as the reading public.

The various sums of money received and expended during the year are as follows:

Balance July 1, 1894.....	$ 331 94
Library fund.....	3,000 00
Fines.....	16 70
Total.....	$338 64
Rent.....	$250 00
Electric light.....	180 00
Librarian.....	600 00
Janitor.....	177 50
Sundries.....	55 51
Binding.....	197 05
Books.....	942 36
Periodicals.....	136 58
Insurance.....	90 00
Coal and wood.....	55 50
New shelving, etc.....	61 75
Sundries.....	55 51
Gas bills.....	12 70
Ice for season.....	8 00
Drayage.....	7 30
Balance.....	$567 41 $338 64

Out of the above balance there must be met the expense of the library until the next appropriation is available, together with the bills for books, the orders for which are now held in Chicago, the above balance being about sufficient to meet all the requirements of the library until the September bills become payable.

The board of directors will endeavor in the future as they have done in the past, to manage the affairs of the library with as close economy as possible. There are many ways in which a larger sum of money could be used to advantage strengthening the library, but in view of the fact that all other expenditures of the city for the present year are necessarily increased we do not deem it advisable to ask of the council any larger appropriation than that given to us for the year just ended.

The following are the members of the board of directors, with dates of expiration of their respective terms of office:

George L. Carrington—June 30, 1895.
Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy—June 30, 1895.
Mrs. W. C. Butler—June 30, 1895.
Horace McElroy—June 30, 1896.
William Bladon—June 30, 1896.
Mrs. O. H. Fethers—June 30, 1896.
Stanley B. Smith—June 30, 1897.
Orrin Bemis—June 30, 1897.
Gertrude Cobb—June 30, 1897.
Dated, June 30, 1895.

THE WEEK'S EVENT AT MILTON.

Prof Kumein to Furnish Natural History Specimens.

MILTON, July 15.—President L. D. Harvey, of the Milwaukee Normal school was in town Friday arranging with Prof Kumein to furnish some natural history specimens for the Milwaukee school. James G. Bond who is railroad agent in West Virginia on the Chesapeake and Ohio road, is at home enjoying a sixty days' vacation. Cyclists longed for a vacation from the dust layer.

J. W. Grunning and wife of Friendship, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Scott. William Oates has the best field of tobacco in town, but unless rain comes soon it will be a poor crop. Arthur B. Castle, of the Milwaukee fire department was a visitor here last week. Messrs. Hendrie and Thompson were in town Friday, representing the Milwaukee Sentinel. The "Young Favorite" and a similar piece from Janesville, were to play here Friday, but the visitors did not show up and The Favorites beat a pick up nine 34 to 8.

Fred Whitford left Monday for Louisville, Ky., where he will assist in the revival services which the Seventh-Day Baptists are holding in that city. A. W. Allen, M. D., of Austin, Minn., and G. O. Allen, of Marietta, spent Sunday in the village, which for many years was their home. The doctor has a speedy pace, "Iturial," 2:15, in the 3:20 class this week. Charles A. Smart, of Ottawa, Kan., one of the leading politicians and lawyers of that city, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smart, in this village, and shaking hands with college classmates and old time friends. Mrs. Smart accompanies him. W. P. Clarke and Prof. H. C. Curtis saw Patchen pace his mile in 2:04 1/2 Monday. Some substantial sidewalks have been laid on the south side of the park and Greenman street by Commissioner Coon. The showers of Sunday were of much benefit to crops, but frequent repetitions would be welcome. Mrs. J. D. Bond was called to Chicago, Monday by a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of her mother. Earl Bonc and Bernie Saunders "biked" to Lake Geneva Monday and will enjoy an outing there.

CHINCH BUGS AT FAIRFIELD.

Many Farmers are Cutting Their Barley For Fodder—Other News.

FAIRFIELD, July 16.—Chinch bugs are doing serious injury to the barley, and many farmers are cutting it for fodder. Miss Grace Blanchard of Delavan, was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Wilson More, last Tuesday and Wednesday. A large delegation from here celebrated the Fourth at a picnic held at Mr. Winegar's woods. On Thursday evening, July 18, the Ladies' Aid and Christian Endeavor societies of Emerald Grove will give an ice cream festival at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Clark. An interesting program will be presented and a cordial invitation is extended to all. Ladies please provide cake. Mrs. David Dyken is entertaining a friend from Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. C. Holmes of Chicago, are visiting at James Cutler's. Fairfield had representatives at Clinton and Emerald Grove on the Fourth. William Wilkins and Miss Edith Wilkins celebrated the Fourth with Chicago friends. B. Conry received a visit from three sisters last week, two of them residing in distant states. Mrs. Will Rokenbrodt, who has been so seriously ill is slowly improving in health. Mrs. A. Woodman of Clinton was a guest at J. Johnson's last week. Any one finding a red and black felt lap robe on the Janesville road will confer a great favor upon Mrs. Boudish by returning it to her. Mrs. James Gregory and Mrs. William More planned a complete surprise for their mother, Mrs. John Dykeman, last Wednesday. A large company of ladies was present and a delightful afternoon was spent. A sumptuous repast was served and Mrs. Dykeman was presented with a nice easy rocker. Be sure you don't forget the social at A. D. Clark's, Thursday July 18, given by the Ladies' Aid and Christian Endeavor Societies of Emerald Grove.

INDIAN FORD TENT LEVELLED.

Wind Broke Up the Latter Day Saints' Meeting—Other News.

INDIAN FORD, July 16.—The storm of last Sunday blew the Latter Day Saints' tent over while services were being held, but luckily no one was hurt. The gale also demolished a tobacco shed for William Hudson, breaking a new tinder and seeder, and doing other damage. Leavie Hubel was seriously hurt by falling from a load of hay last week.

The ice cream social given under the auspices of the Good Templars, was a success both financially and socially. A short program was given and was well rendered, especially the violin and guitar solo. Charles Hallet and wife were in Edgerton Saturday. Ed. Hallet is cutting hay on Hurd's marsh. The meeting held in the tent under the leadership of the Latter Day Saints are well attended. Miss Genevieve Rich and C. C. Russell of Janesville, were visiting Ford friends last week. Mr. Hatfield, the Standard Oil Co.'s agent and collector, was seen on our streets Saturday. Miss May Johnson of Evansville, was a welcome caller on Ford friends.

Dr. Red Wolf visited Janesville and Edgerton one day last week; also, Albin and Stoughton. Oscar Tab's milk team took a lively run across the Ford bridge last week. Quite a number of Milton Junction people attended the ice cream social here Saturday night. Mrs. G. L. Chamberlain entertained company last week. Mr. Fredendall and family visited Henry Cox and family last Sunday.

North Johnstown News.

C. W. Bullock and wife, E. L. Cary and wife and C. L. Cary and wife attended the Sabbath school convention at Emerald Grove last Sunday. Earl Newton and family of Fort Atkinson Sundayed at W. H. Newton's. The social at W. H. Newton's last Thursday evening was well patronized and over six dollars added to the Aid Society treasury. Allie Woodard of Allens Grove is visiting at his uncle's J. Ely. Mr. Frank Newton and family of Sullivan Station are visiting at his uncle's W. H. Newton, at the present writing. Mrs. H. R. Osborn served ice cream to a select company last Saturday night. Mrs. James Wheeler is on the sick list. Mrs. H. A. Johnson and Miss Nina Douglas and son Orin of Whitewater is visiting in the Cary neighborhood.

MINERS ON A STRIKE FOR HIGHER WAGES

DEMAND FOR A RAISE AT ISHPERING, MICH.

The Strike Likely to Develop Into a Great Contest—Glass Blowers Bar Foreigners From Their Union—Laborers at Cleveland Win a Strike—News of Labor Union.

Ishpeming, Mich., July 16.—The miners of Ishpeming and Negaunee held a mass meeting yesterday at Union Park, midway between the two cities and decided to strike for increased wages. Delegations of striking miners headed by brass bands, visited the various mines to influence the men. The demand for an advance in pay has been refused by the Negaunee mines. The men have been dissatisfied for some time and many of them are very determined. About 1,000 Negaunee men marched in a body to the Ishpeming mines. They proposed asking the Ishpeming miners to join them, and, in case they refused, to force them to quit work. The Ishpeming miners are satisfied, as a rule, to continue work a few weeks longer, in the hope of a voluntary raise on the part of the mining companies, but the trimmers and common laborers are much dissatisfied with their wages. The Ishpeming men have not made a formal demand upon the companies, but in case they are compelled to go out they will submit a proposition. The demand of the Negaunee men is for an increase of 10 cents a car on the contract price, and about 15 per cent to trimmers and other laborers.

GLASS BLOWERS PUT UP BARS.

None but Citizens with $500 Can Join the Union.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 16.—The national convention of the Window Glass Workers of America has put up the bars against foreign glass blowers by adopting a resolution increasing initiation fee from $200 to $500. It is further provided that the applicant for membership must have been a resident of this country for five years prior to his application; that during that time he shall not have worked in any glass house, and that he shall be a naturalized citizen of the United States. The resolution offered by President Burns to pay back the per capita tax to the K. of L. was voted down by a nine-tenths vote, and a resolution to defer payment indefinitely was carried. Another resolution to take the headquarters to Indiana for two years and then to New York for two years was voted down almost unanimously.

Conference Accomplishes Nothing.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 16.—A conference of all the large coal operators in the Wheeling district was held here yesterday to consider the demands made by the Miners' union for an increase of wages from 51 to 60 cents a ton. After a three hours' conference it was unanimously decided not to grant the ultimatum and every mine in the district closed. The operators believe they will have no trouble in getting men to fill the mines.

Laborers Get an Advance.

Cleveland, O., July 16.—The dock laborers at Ashtabula struck on Saturday for an increase of 10 per cent in wages. The advance was granted yesterday. The Cleveland dock companies decided to make a similar raise. Like action was taken at every port on Lake Erie, and at South Chicago.

Three Thousand Coal Miners Out.

Bellaire, O., July 16.—The coal operators in the West Virginia district across the river have refused the advance asked by the miners, and fully 3,000 men are thrown out of employment. The men ask for 60 cents received all have received 51 cents.

Many Drowned in the Lake.

St. Paul, Minn., July 16.—An unconfirmed report from Albert Lea is to the effect that the storm Sunday night on Beaver Lake, Steel County, upset a boat, and that from six to fifteen persons were drowned. Up to a late hour last night it was impossible to verify or disprove the report.

"CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS are made by covering a linen collar or cuff with "celluloid," thus making them strong, durable and waterproof. When soiled they can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. No other waterproof goods are made with this interlining, consequently no other goods can possibly give satisfaction. Do not forget that every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

TRADE MARK. CELLULOID MARK.

Insist upon goods so marked and refuse anything else if offered. If your dealer does not keep them you can procure a sample from us direct by enclosing amount and stating size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs 50c. pair.

Property is Cheap

In Janesville, if one makes a judicious selection. A good, central location is an indispensable element in a good purchase. While the demand for property is limited, those MUST sell are compelled to concede much to the buyer. The following are illustrations, viz:

A splendid new house and large barn on Milwaukee ave., for $4000, worth $4500.

Fine, new, seven room house on Prospect ave. for $1700, should sell for $2000.

Modern eight room house, with barn, on 4th Avenue for $2000. This lot alone is worth $1000.

$2400 buys a high-class corner lot, on which are two houses. Will rent for a fair income on $2300.

"Ready" lots on car line near center of business for $500 to $800.

VARIOUS NOTES.

The Newest Blouse—Glaze Kid Shoes—Bicycle Costumes.

There is a new blouse, with or without sleeves, of string colored batiste. This is to wear over a silk bodice or by itself, in which case contrasting sleeves, very large, are worn. This blouse will be in immense vogue as the summer ripens. It is not only cool in itself, but it gives the impression of coolness, and it tones down a gay toilet. A full front and partially full back, although the latter is not a positively necessary qualification, will convert the most elaborate bodice into a blouse. With a well cut skirt of black moire or satin and half a dozen blouses of muslin, chiffon and silk a great variety of toilet is attained, at least in effect.

Alpaca has advanced in favor very suddenly and is much seen at present. Its better qualities it is very useful, although the old fashioned cheap grades, half of glazed cotton, were the worst of delusions and a waste of money. Although they were well, they almost at once lost their color and smoothness. Alpaca with a silk warp is charming and serviceable, except in damp weather, when no alpaca holds its own.

Leggings to wear with bicycle suits are now made of the same material as the gown and are buttoned or laced according to the fancy of the rider. Mixed goods, like tweed, cheviot or covert cloth, are most suitable for these costumes, as something is required that will resist the ravages of dust and dampness. Plain colors are often worn, however, blue, black and even dove gray, that most delicate of tints being not infrequently seen. Long and short skirts, divided skirts and bloomers chase public favor, although trousers in some shape, made of the same goods, are always worn beneath the skirt, if there be one.

The bicycle costume illustrated is of light brown cheviot. It has full bloomers, full at the waist and gathered below the knee into a wide band which buttons around the leg with four buttons. Gaiters of the same cloth come up to the full portion of the bloomers. The bodice has wide revers and opens over a full vest with a turned over collar. The belt is of yellow leather. JUDIC CHOLLET.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Fancy Stockings to Match the Dress, Costly Canes.

Yellow is the fashion of the moment and prevails in all shades from orange to cream. A special view of elegant costumes recently imported showed yellow in some of its variations in nine-tenths of the garments, and in millinery it appears in almost every bit of headgear on exhibition. Hosiery is changing in fashion. While black remains the standard, there is a decided call for fancy styles of all sorts. Some extremely pretty fancy samples are shown, and the indications are that costumes will be matched in all shades from black to white.

Godet skirts, in order to hang well, must be held in place by a strong flat elastic run under the godets inside the skirt. As these skirts are always lined of necessity, the elastic may be attached to the lining alone without showing on the outside. The inside of every fold should be thus tacked, which will keep the godets in shape under all trying circumstances.

It is the fashion for men to carry valuable canes. Whether it is in the best taste or not is another question. If women dress to please men, men likewise dress to please women, and refined women usually prefer a man who is not foppish, and who regards his clothes as he does his toothbrush—that is, as one of the necessities of civilization, to be employed conscientiously and kept immaculately clean, but not as the end and aim of existence. However, as has been said, expensive canes are the style, and the primarily fashionable man keeps a large assortment of them. They are of malacca set with gold and crystal, or tortoise shell in which are placed diamonds, turquoises and other precious stones, sometimes in the form of the alpha of the owner. Other canes are finished with a duck's head in gold, which is hollow and fitted to hold matches.

A little girl's gown is shown in the sketch. It is of blue wool goods and has a full skirt gathered on the belt of a blouse bodice. The skirt is plain, and the bodice is gathered at the throat and waist. A high collar of black satin, with bows, finishes the neck, while a belt to match surrounds the waist. The full sleeves stop at the elbow and are partly covered by deep, full epaulets of white lace. The fastening of the gown is in the back, invisible among the folds. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Voyagers For Pleasure

Or business, persons on the point of taking an "outing" on land or sea, yachtmen and tourists need and should be provided with some preventive of sea sickness and corrective of the occasional ill effects of acclimated air, food and water. Many nervous persons experience quins akin to sea sickness when traveling by rail. They, too, require a medicinal safeguard. The best in existence is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promptly relieves nausea, sick headache, biliousness, cramps and colic, &c. If business calls you to some locality where chills and fever or bilious remittent is prevalent, don't fail to provide yourself with it. For constipation, rheumatism and inactivity of the kidneys it is an excellent remedy. Eminent physicians commend it highly. Lay in a supply before you start by boat, steamer or train. It is a most serviceable traveling companion.

The Only Remedy in the World that Refunds Purchase Price if it Fails to Cure the Tobacco Habit in 4 to 10 Days is

Narcoti-Cure

It Cures while You Continue the Use of Tobacco.

The greatest discovery of the age!

A certain, pleasant, permanent cure. A lifetime's suffering ended for $5.

Why smoke and spit your life away? Why suffer from dyspepsia, heartburn and drains on your vital forces?

Stop using tobacco, but stop the right way. Drive the nicotine from your system by use of this wonderful remedy.

Narcoti cure is warranted to remove all desire for tobacco in every form, including Cigar, Cigarette and Pipe smoking, Chewing and Snuff Taking.

Use all the tobacco you want while under treatment, and in from four to ten days your "hankering" and "craving" will disappear—the weed won't taste good. Then throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is entirely vegetable and free from injurious ingredients. It never fails to give tone and new vigor to the weakest constitution.

Remember Narcoti-Cure doesn't deprive you of tobacco while effecting a cure; doesn't ask you to buy several bottles to be entitled to a guarantee; doesn't require a month's treatment; and finally, doesn't enable you to stop tobacco only to find yourself a slave to the habit of tablet chewing.

With Narcoti-Cure, when you are through with tobacco you are through with the remedy. One bottle cures. Send for book of prominent testimonials like the following:

HUNTINGTON, Mass. Mar. 13, 1895. The Narcoti Chemical Co., Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen:—I have used tobacco for over twenty-five years, chewing and smoking every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. stopping only for meals. On Monday, February 4, I called at your office in Springfield, and bought a bottle of the Cure which I used as directed and on the tenth day the desire for tobacco had left me and has not returned. I did not lose a meal while taking the cure. My appetite has improved and I consider Narcoti-Cure a grand thing. Very respectfully,

CHAS. I. LINCOLN.

Mr. Frank H. Morton, of Chicopee Falls, Mass., late Inspector of Public Buildings for Massachusetts, says:

I used tobacco for twenty-five years, and was a confirmed smoker. In just eight days' treatment with Narcoti-Cure I was through with tobacco, in fact the desire vanished like a dream. Very respectfully,

FRANK H. MORTON.

If your druggist is unable to give full particulars about Narcoti-Cure, send to us for Book of Particulars free, or send $5 for bottle by mail.

Having all parts of the Furnace which are in contact with the fuel in combustion made of HEAVY CAST IRON.

The fire chamber being entirely sectional, provides amply for expansion in heating.

The upright corrugated sections forming the fire chamber being subjected to a uniform heat on all sides, in proportion to their constructed thickness affords a perfect surety against cracking or warping as six years of crucial tests have proven.

With an exceedingly great amount of heating surface in direct contact with the fuel, no part of the same is so intensely heated, as where only a globe fire pot is provided.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY
1661—Pierre Lemoine, Sieur d'Iberville, founder of Louisiana, born in Montreal; died 1704.
1850—Marchioness Margaret Fuller Ossoli, with her husband and child, drowned off Fire Island beach, New York; born 1810. Emerson wrote of Margaret Fuller: "She was an active, inspiring companion and correspondent, and all the art, the thought and nobleness of New England seemed at that moment related to her and she to it. She was everywhere a welcome guest. The houses of her friends in town and country were open to her and every hospitable attention eagerly offered. Her arrival was a holiday and so was her abode, and all tasks that could be suspended were put aside to catch the favorable hour in walking, riding or boating to talk with this joyful guest, who brought wit, anecdotes, love stories, tragedies, oracles with her."
1862—Mrs. Abraham Lincoln died, aged 67.
1866—General Edward Jardine, a distinguished Union veteran, died in New York city; born 1828. Rear Admiral Earl English, U. S. A., retired, died in Washington; born 1828.

DEED WAS THAT OF A FIEND.

Toronto, Ont., July 16.—The bodies of the murdered children of Benjamin F. Pitzel, Alice and Nellie, were found in the cellar of a cottage at 16 St. Vincent street in this city yesterday. It is claimed that the children were murdered by H. H. Holmes, the insurance swindler, who is also charged with the murder of the father, on whose life he held an insurance policy for $10,000. The cottage in the cellar of which the naked bodies of the children were found was rented and occupied last October by Holmes, now under arrest at Philadelphia on a charge of defrauding insurance companies. Pitzel, whose life was insured for $10,000, was found dead in a house he had rented in Philadelphia and it was thought he was accidentally burned to death, and Holmes left here with Pitzel's three children to go to the funeral. They went to Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Detroit and then came here October 18 last.

A few days ago Detective Geyer, of Philadelphia, arrived here and proceeded quietly to search for the bodies of the children. He found their bodies yesterday, naked and partly decomposed. They had been buried in the earth without coffins.

There were no traces of wounds on the bodies, and the theory of the detectives is that Holmes and some one else decoyed the children one at a time into a trunk under the pretense of telling them to hide from each other, and inserted gas through a small hole which has been discovered in the trunk, and which is neatly covered with a strap tacked over it. The bodies are those of the little girls. No trace of the body of Howard, the missing 8-year-old boy who disappeared at Detroit, has yet been found. Holmes, it is said, registered here under the name of Howell. He may be brought here for trial.

Chicago, July 16.—H. H. Holmes was arrested in Boston last November for defrauding the Fidelity Mutual Life Association of Philadelphia out of $10,000, the amount of the policy on the life of B. F. Pitzel. He was taken to Philadelphia and finally was indicted on the charge of "conspiracy to cheat and defraud," and is now held in the jail in that city awaiting trial.

Holmes' crimes began in his boyhood. He was born in New Hampshire thirty-five years ago. His true name, it appears, was Herman Mudgett. At the age of 16 he disappeared from Burlington, the town in which he lived. After some time he turned up at Ann Arbor as H. H. Holmes, a student in the medical department of the University of Michigan. He and another student became friendly, and at his suggestion his friend had his life insured for $12,000. They obtained a body, arranged to have it identified as that of the man insured, and were paid the life-insurance money.

After a few years he came to light in Englewood, where he became a clerk in the drug store at 600 Sixty-third street.

About this time the man Pitzel became one of his acquaintances. He hung around Holmes' drug store much of the time. Shortly after they became friends Holmes found another one in the person of Miss Minnie Williams, of Fort Worth, Texas. Miss Williams owned property in Fort Worth to the amount of $50,000. Holmes, it appears, lived with her, and later her sister Anna came from Texas and joined them. Afterward both the Williams girls disappeared and have never been heard from since. Holmes, at the time of his arrest in Boston, said that Minnie killed Anna and went to Europe, but it is generally believed that he made away with both of them. Anyhow, he afterward appeared in Fort Worth with deeds to property formerly owned by Minnie Williams.

In Fort Worth Holmes passed as H. H. Pratt. Pitzel showed up there also. With money obtained from the sale of the Williams property they indulged in various schemes, one of which is said to have been a wholesale horse-stealing venture. Texas became too hot for them, and they went to Philadelphia. Pitzel carried a $10,000 life insurance policy in the Fidelity Mutual Life Association, which had been written for him in Chicago. Shortly afterward what was supposed to be the corpse of Pitzel was found and the $10,000 was paid over to Holmes, who delivered a portion of it to Mrs. Pitzel. The insurance company last November came to the conclusion that Holmes murdered Pitzel, and accordingly had him arrested. Holmes contended that Pitzel was in South America. It could not be learned then, either from Holmes or from Mrs. Pitzel, what had become of the Pitzel children. Holmes is said to have had a number of wives. The present Mrs. Holmes was a Miss Georgiana Yorke, of Franklin, Ind. She became acquainted with Holmes and married him here. Pitzel's career was varied. He lived in various places, all of which he left under suspicious circumstances.

Close of Asbury Park Meeting.

Asbury Park, N. J., July 16.—Fred J. Titus closed the races of the sixteenth national meet of the League of American Wheelmen yesterday with a brilliant five-mile race against time, tying the world's record of 10:22 3-5 as made by John S. Johnson November 17, 1894. The summary:
Two-mile handicap, Class B, special—B. B. Bird, St. Paul, 150 yards, won; time, 4:24 4-5. Half-mile open, Class A—H. P. Mosher, New York, won; time, 1:14 2-5. One mile open, Class B—A. Gardiner, Chicago, won; time, 2:27 1-5. One mile open Class A—A. P. Mosher, New York, won; time, 2:29. Two-mile open, Class B—F. J. Titus won; time, 5:30 4-5. Poisoned by Their Adopted Daughter.

Seymour, Ind., July 16.—Fleming Sarver and wife, of Uniontown, were poisoned by their adopted daughter, Dollie Belknap, aged 14. The couple are 60 years old each and well off. The girl has been keeping company with Hays Robins, the son of one of the wealthiest farmers of that section, and claims to have been influenced by him to do the deed. Mr. Sarver is dead and his wife is not expected to live. The girl was arrested yesterday and it is reported warrants have been issued for the arrest of Hays Robins and others implicated.

Nichols Law Valid.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 16.—Judges Lorton and Taft held the Nichols state law valid and sustained the state auditor, treasurer and attorney general, the state board of appraisers, in the assessment for taxes made under the act on telegraph, telephone and express companies. This law has been contested in the state and lower courts, and is now settled by this decision of the United States court of appeals. It involves large assessments from the companies to the state.

Mrs. Stevenson Getting Better.

Bloomington, Ill., July 16.—Mrs. Vice-President Stevenson continues to improve steadily, and it is confidently believed that she will be in her usual good health in a few days. She has suffered a great deal of pain, and her nervous system is pretty badly shattered, so that it will take some time for her to rally. She is in perfect quiet at the family residence here, where for the first time in many months the family is united.

Texas Fever Among Cattle.

Rowling, Ky., July 16.—The Secretary of the State Board of Health has received a report from T. E. Haggard, State veterinarian, who was sent to Henry and Jefferson counties to investigate the mysterious disease that was carrying off all the cattle in those counties. Dr. Haggard reports the disease to be Texas fever. He also reports the disease under control, and says no spread of it is anticipated.

Want to Lynch a White Man.

Columbia, S. C., July 16.—The negroes in Greenville are greatly excited over the lynching of Ira Johnson, whose lawyer said he could have established a clear case of self-defense. They want to lynch a white man in jail, charged with the murder of a white man, for retaliation. One militia company is guarding the jail and another is under arms in the armory. Johnson had been carefully guarded, but as all talk of lynching him subsided the vigilance was relaxed. That was what the lynchers were waiting for.

Rain Falls Throughout Iowa.

Des Moines, Ia., July 16.—Within the last twenty-four hours rain has fallen all over Iowa, and has done immense good. Complaints were coming from all sections that rain was much needed. The rains vary from half an inch to an inch and a half, the eastern part, which needed it the most, having generally the best fall. The rain came gently, and has not injured the small grain, which is being harvested.

Young Girl Shoots Herself.

For an Illinois Racing Bill.

Sycamore, Ill., July 16.—Representative James Brannen of this city has formulated a race-track bill which permits pool-selling. This bill provides for a license, which will go into the State educational fund, of $50 a day for the big races and $10 a day for races at county fairs. Mr. Brannen says the bill will be introduced at the special session of the legislature.

Negro Murderer on Trial.

New York, July 16.—John S. Collins, the negro who shot and killed Student Frederick F. Ohi, in Princeton, on the night of the Yale-Princeton ball game, was placed on trial at Trenton, N. J., yesterday. Collins admits shooting Ohi, but claims that he was greatly exasperated by the students and shot in self-defense.

THE THEORY OF THE DIGESTION OF FOOD.

The human stomach is a pear-shaped bag into which all food drops at once when swallowed. Three things happen:—the blood rushes into the substance of the stomach (not into its interior) to heat it; thousands of little ducts or pipes pour copiously forth a fluid called the gastric juice, and then, the stomach begins a wave-like churning movement which thoroughly mixes the gastric juice with the food and by-and-by changes the whole into a gray-looking, semi-liquid paste called chyme. This is digestion as it takes place in the stomach.

But, look you! If the stomach fails to furnish the gastric juice, or fails to furnish enough of it, the food simply lies in the stomach and turns sour, putrefies, ferments—as it would in a warm moist air out doors. This is indigestion, dyspepsia or gastritis. Having no other way of escape the poisons so rendered pass into the circulation and set up a train of results like these:—headache, foul taste in the mouth, loss of appetite and nausea, furred tongue; disordered heart action; nervous weakness and prostration; chills followed by heat flashes; distress and weight in chest after eating; fugitive muscular pains, followed in time by grave local ailments, etc. All this bear in mind, comes of a more or less complete failure of the stomach to secrete gastric juice.

Having studied this subject for many years the Shakers of Mt. Lebanon (N. Y.)—famous as medicinal chemists and herbalists—sought among the plants cultivated by them only for a remedy which should have the distinct and specific effect of stimulating the flow of gastric juice to a normal amount and at the same time of the natural digestive strength. No other so-called remedies for dyspepsia have this purpose in view, yet it is the absolutely essential thing. Successful in their efforts, even beyond their hopes, they have placed their discovery on the market under the name Shakers' Digestive Cordial. Its effects are immediate and radical. Relief is felt at once and a permanent cure soon follows. It is the sure and scientific remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia.

Confident in their work the Shakers offer trial bottles at the nominal price of ten cents. For sale by nearly all druggists.

SUNDAY'S SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE

"THE UNPARDONABLE SIN"
LAST SUNDAY'S SUBJECT.

"All Manner of Sin Shall Be Forgiven Unto Men; but the Blasphemy of the Holy Ghost Shall Not Be Forgiven Unto Men"—Matthew 12:31-32.

ANDREW TALMAGE, July 14, 1895. In his sermon for to-day, Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is still in the West on his annual summer tour, chose a subject which has been a fruitful theme of theological disputation for centuries past, viz.: "The Unpardonable Sin."

The texts selected were: "All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come." (Matthew 12:31-32.)

"He found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears," (Heb. 12:17.)

As sometimes you gather the whole family around the evening stand to hear some book read, so now we gather—a great Christian family group—to study this text; and now may one and the same lamp cast its glow on all the circle!

You see from the first passage that I read that there is a sin against the Holy Ghost for which a man is never pardoned. Once having committed it, he is bound hand and foot for the dungeons of despair. Sermons may be preached to him, songs may be sung to him, prayers may be offered in his behalf; but all to no purpose. He is a captive for this world, and a captive for the world that is to come. Do you suppose that there is any one here who has committed that sin? All sins are against the Holy Ghost; but my text speaks of one especially. It is very clear to my own mind that the sin against the Holy Ghost was the ascribing of the works of the Spirit to the agency of the devil in the time of the apostles. Indeed, the Bible distinctly tells us that. In other words, if a man had sight given to him, or if another was raised from the dead, and someone standing there should say, "This man got his sight by Satanic power; the Holy Spirit did not do this; Beelzebub accomplished it," or, "This man raised from the dead was raised by Satanic influence," the man who said that dropped down under the curse of the text, and had committed the fatal sin against the Holy Ghost.

Now, I do not think it is possible in this day to commit that sin. I think it was possible only in apostolic times. But it is a very terrible thing ever to say anything against the Holy Ghost, and it is a marked fact that our race has been marvelously kept back from that profanity. You hear a man swear by the name of the Eternal God, and by the name of Jesus Christ, but you never heard a man swear by the name of the Holy Ghost. There are those here to-day who fear they are guilty of the unpardonable sin. Have you such anxiety? Then I have to tell you positively that you have not committed that sin, because the very anxiety is a result of the movement of the gracious Spirit, and your anxiety is proof positive, as certainly as anything that can be demonstrated in mathematics, that you have not committed the sin that I have been speaking of. I can look off upon this audience and feel that there is salvation for all. It is not like when they put out with those life-boats from the "Loch Earn" for the "Ville du Havre." They knew that there was not room for all the passengers, but they were going to do as well as they could. But to-day we man the life-boat of the Gospel, and we cry out over the sea, "Room for all!" Oh, that the Lord Jesus Christ would, this hour, bring you all out of the flood of sin, and plant you on the deck of the glorious old Gospel craft!

But while I have said I do not think it is possible for us to commit the particular sin spoken of in the first text, I have by reason of the second text to call your attention to the fact that there are sins which, though they may be pardoned, are in some respects irrevocable; and you can find no place for repentance, though you seek it carefully with tears. Esau had a birthright given him. In olden times it meant not only temporal but spiritual blessing. One day Esau took this birthright and traded it off for something to eat. Oh, the folly! But let us not be too severe upon him, for some of us have committed the same folly. After he had made the trade, he wanted to get it back. Just as though you to-morrow morning should take all your notes and bonds and government securities, and should go into a restaurant, and in a fit of recklessness and hunger throw all those securities on the counter and ask for a plate of food, making that exchange. This was the one Esau made. He sold his birthright for a mess of pottage, and he was very sorry about it afterward; but "he found no place for repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears."

There is an impression in almost every man's mind that somewhere in the future there will be a chance where he can correct all his mistakes. Live as we may, if we only repent in time, God will forgive us, and then all will be as well as though we had never committed sin. My discourse shall come in collision with that theory. I shall show you, my friends, as God will help me, that there is such a thing as unsuccessful repentance; that there are things done wrong that always stay wrong, and for them you may seek some place of repentance, and seek it carefully, but never find it.

Belonging to this class of irrevocable mistakes is the folly of misspent youth. We may look back to our college days, and think how we neglected chemistry, or geology, or botany, or mathematics. We may be sorry about it all our days. Can we ever get the discipline or the advantage that we would have had had we attended to those duties in early life? A man wakes up at forty years of age and finds that his youth has been wasted, and he strives to get back his early advantages. Does he get them back—the days of boyhood, the days in college, the days under his father's roof? "Oh," he says, "if I could only get those times back again, how I would improve them!" My brother, you will never get them back. They are gone, gone. You may be very sorry about it, and God may forgive, so that you may at last reach heaven; but you will never get over some of the mishaps that have come to your soul as a result of your neglect of early duty. You may try to undo it; you cannot undo it. When you had a boy's arms, and a boy's eyes, and a boy's heart you ought to have attended to those things. A man says, at fifty years of age, "I do wish I could get over these habits of indolence." When did you get them? At twenty or twenty-five years of age. You cannot shake them off. They will hang to you to the very day of your death. If a young man through a long course of evil conduct undermines his physical health, and then repents of it in after life, the Lord may pardon him; but that does not bring back good physical condition. I said to a minister of the Gospel, one Sabbath, at the close of the service, "Where are you preaching now?" "Oh," he says, "I am not preaching. I am suffering from the physical effects of early sin. I can't preach now; I am sick." A consecrated man he now is, and he mourns bitterly over early sins; but that does not arrest their bodily effects.

The simple fact is that men and women often take twenty years of their life to build up influences that require all the rest of their life to break down. Talk about a man beginning life when he is twenty-one years of age; talk about a woman beginning life when she is eighteen years of age! Ah, no! In many respects that is the time they close life. In nine cases out of ten, all the questions of eternity are decided before that. Talk about a majority of men getting their fortunes between thirty and forty! The get or lose fortunes between ten and twenty. When you tell me that a man is just beginning life, I tell you he is just closing it. The next fifty years will not be of as much importance to him as the first twenty.

Now, why do I say this? Is it for the annoyance of those who have only a baleful retrospection? You know that is not my way. I say it for the benefit of young men and women. I want them to understand that eternity is wrapped up in this hour; that the sins of youth we never get over; that you are now fashioning the mold in which your great future is to run; that a minute, instead of being sixty seconds long, is made up of everlasting ages. You see what dignity and importance this gives to the life of all our young folks. Why, in the light of this subject, life is not something to be frittered away, not something to be smirked about, not something to be danced out, but something to be weighed in the balances of eternity. Oh, young man! the sin of yesterday, the sin of to-morrow, will reach over ten thousand years, ay, over the great and unending eternity. You may, after awhile, say, "I am very sorry. Now I have got to be thirty or forty years of age, and I do wish I had never committed those sins." What does that amount to? God may pardon you; but unto those things you never will, you never can.

In this same category of irrevocable mistakes I put all parental neglect. We begin the education of our children too late. By the time they get to be ten or fifteen we wake up to our mistakes and try to eradicate this bad habit, and change that; but it is too late. That parent who omits, in the first ten years of the child's life, to make an eternal impression for Christ, never makes it. The child will probably go on with all the disadvantages, which might have been avoided by parental faithfulness. Now you see what a mistake that father or mother makes who puts off to late life adherence to Christ. Here is a man who at fifty years of age says to you, "I must be a Christian;" and he yields his heart to God, and sits in the place of prayer to-day a Christian. None of us can doubt it. He goes home and he says, "Here at fifty years of age I have given my heart to the Savior. Now I must establish a family altar." What? Where are your children now? One in Boston; another in Cincinnati; another in New Orleans; and you, my brother, at your fiftieth year going to establish your family altar? Very well; better late than never; but alas, alas that you did not do it twenty-five years ago!

When I was in Chamouni, Switzerland, I saw in the window of one of the shops a picture that impressed my mind very much. It was a picture of an accident that occurred on the side of one of the Swiss mountains. A company of travelers, with guides, went up some very steep places—places which but few travelers attempted to go up. They were, as all travelers are there, fastened together with cords at the waist, so that if one slipped the rope would hold him—the rope fastened to the others. Passing along the most dangerous point one of the guides slipped; and they all started down the precipice; but after awhile one more muscular than the rest stuck his heels into the ice and stopped; but the rope broke, and down, hundreds and thousands of feet, the rest went. And so I see whole families bound together by ties of affection, and in many cases walking on slippery places of worldliness and sin. The father knows it, and the mother knows it, and they are bound all together. After a while they begin to slide down steeper and steeper, and the father becomes alarmed, and he stops, planting his feet on the "Rock of Ages." He stops, but the rope breaks, and those who were once tied fast to him by moral and spiritual influences go over the precipice. Oh, there is such a thing as coming to Christ soon enough to save ourselves, but not soon enough to save others!

How many parents wake up in the latter part of life to find out the mistake! The parent says, "I have been too lenient," or "I have been too severe in the discipline of my children. If I had the little ones around me again, how different I would do!" You will never have them around again. The work is done, the bent to the character is given, the eternity is decided. I say this to young parents—those who are twenty-five or thirty or thirty-five years of age—have the family altar to-night. How do you suppose that father felt as he leaned over the couch of his dying child, and the expiring son said to him, "Father, you have been very good to me. You have given me a fine education, and you have placed me in a fine social position; you have done everything for me in a worldly sense; but, father, you never told me how to die. Now I am dying and I am afraid."

In this category of irrevocable mistakes I place, also, the unkindness done the departed. When I was a boy my mother used to say to me sometimes, "De Witt, you will be sorry for that when I am gone." And I remember just how she looked, sitting there, with cap and spectacles, and the old Bible in her lap; and she never said a truer thing than that, for I have been sorry since. While we have our friends with us, we say unguarded things that wound the feelings of those to whom we ought to give nothing but kindness. Perhaps the parent, without inquiring into the matter, boxes the child's ears. The little one, who has fallen in the street, comes in covered with dust, and, as though the first disaster were not enough, she whips it. After a while the child is taken, or the parent is taken, or the companion is taken and those who are left say, "Oh, if we could only get back those unkind words, those unkind deeds; if we could only recall them!" But you can not get them back. You might bow down over the grave of that loved one, and cry and cry and cry—the white lips would make no answer. The stars shall be plucked out of their sockets, but these influences shall not be torn away. The world shall die, but there are some wrongs immortal. The moral of which is, take care of your friends while you have them; spare the scolding; be economical of the satire; shut up in a dark cave, from which they shall never swarm forth, all the words that have a sting in them. You will wish you had some day—very soon you will—perhaps to-morrow. Oh, yes. While with a firm hand you administer parental discipline, also administer it very gently, lest some day there be a little slab in the cemetery, and on it chiseled "Our Willie," or "Our Charlie;" and though you bow down prone in the grave and seek a place of repentance, and seek it carefully with tears, you can not find it.

There is another sin that I place in the class of irrevocable mistakes, and that is lost opportunities of getting good. I never come to a Saturday night but I can see during that week that I have missed opportunities of getting good. I never come to my birthday but I can see that I have wasted many chances of getting better. I never go home on Sabbath from the discussion of a religious theme without feeling that I might have done it in a more successful way. How is it with you? If you take a certain number of bushels of wheat and scatter them over a certain number of acres of land, you expect a harvest in proportion to the amount of seed scattered. And I ask you now, have the sheaves of moral and spiritual harvest corresponded with the advantages given? How has it been with you? You may make resolutions for the future, but past opportunities are gone. In the long procession of future years all those past moments will march; but the archangel's trumpet that wakes the dead will not wake for you one of those privileges. Esau has sold his birthright and there is not wealth enough in the treasure houses of heaven to buy it back again. What does that mean? It means that if you are going to get any advantage out of this Sabbath day, you will have to get it before the hand wheels around the clock to twelve to-night. It means that every moment of our life has two wings, and that it does not fly like a hawk, in circles, but in a straight line from eternity to eternity. It means that though other chariots may break down, or drag heavily, this one never drops the brake and never ceases to run. It means that while at other feasts the cup may be passed to us and we may reject it, and yet after awhile take it, the cup-bearers to this feast never give us but one chance at the chalice, and, rejecting that, we shall "find no place for repentance, though we seek it carefully with tears."

I stand before those who have a glorious birthright. Esau's was not so rich as yours. Sell it once and you sell it forever. I remember the story of the lad on the "Arctic" some years ago—the lad Stewart Holland. A vessel crashed into the "Arctic" in the time of a fog, and it was found that the ship must go down. Some of the passengers got off in the life boats, some got off in rafts; but three hundred went to the bottom. During all those hours of calamity Stewart Holland stood at the signal gun and it sounded across the sea, boom! boom! The helmsman forsook his place, the engineer was gone, and some faint and some prayed and some blasphemed, and the powder was gone and they could no more set off the signal gun. The lad broke in the magazine and brought out more powder, and again the gun boomed over the sea. Oh, my friends, tossed on the rough seas of life, some have taken the warning, have gone off in the lifeboat, and they are safe; but others are not making any attempt to escape. So I stand at this signal gun of the gospel, sounding the alarm. Beware! beware! "Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation." Hear it that your soul may live!

LONG STRING of diseases and derangements have their origin in torpor of the liver. Deranged appetite, constipation, headache, sour stomach, gassy belchings, indigestion, or dyspepsia, are due to sluggish liver.

Mr. JOHN A. DUBARRY, U. S. Inspector of Immigration at Buffalo, N. Y., writes as follows: "I suffered from a sluggish liver. Doctors' prescriptions and patent medicines afforded only temporary relief. I tried Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, taking three at night and two after dinner every day for two weeks and then one 'Pellet' every day for two months. I have in six months increased in solid flesh, twenty-six pounds. I am in better health than I have been since childhood. Drowsiness and unpleasant feelings after meals have completely disappeared."

Respectfully yours,

THE OLD FRIENDS.

The old friends, the old friends
We loved when we were young,
With sunshine on their faces
And music on their tongues!
The bees are in the almond flower,
The birds renew their strain,
But the old friends, once lost to us,
Can never come again.

The old friends, the old friends!
Their brow is lined with care;
They're furrows in the faded cheek
And silver in the hair,
But to me they are the old friends still,
In youth and bloom the same
As when we drove the flying ball
Or shouted in the game.

The old men, the old men,
How slow they creep along!
How naughtily we scoffed at them
In days when we were young!
Their prating and their dozing,
Their prate of times gone by,
Their shiver like an autumn leaf
If but a breath went by.

But we, we are the old men now,
Our blood is faint and chill;
We cannot leap the mighty brook
Or climb the breakneck hill.
We mander down the shortest cuts,
We rest on sticks or stile,
And the young men, half ashamed to laugh,
Yet pass us with a smile.

But the young men, the young men,
Their strength is fair to see—
The straight back and the springy stride,
The eye as falcon free,
The shout above the frolic wind
As on the hill they go,
But though so high above us now
They soon shall be as low.

Oh, weary, weary drag the years
As life draws near the end,
And sadly, sadly fall the tears
For loss of love and friend,
But we'll not doubt there's good about
In all of human kind;
So here's a health before we go
To those we leave behind. —Spectator.

THE ICONOCLAST.

Young Mr. Broughton was, unawares and gradually, in process of evolution from the journalist to the newspaper man. It took all sorts of rubs and surprises and facers and disillusion to form him. That morning he was hurrying through Printing House square on an assignment, when he noticed before him a woman carrying on her head a tray of plaster images and walking with the stately gait and even poise of the south Italian. She was small, brown. She wore a gown of blue cotton, a woolen shawl, plaided in olive and yellow, and a red kerchief on her head. These glaring colors, however, made her a picture. To observe her Broughton passed by her and then looked back.

She regarded him calmly. "Buy a lit' San Samuele says-a his oration, signor?"

Broughton had no particular use for a praying Samuel, but he had various theories about our adopted citizens and might have acquired something in the plaster cast line if at that moment a broad shouldered fellow had not come and jostled the little woman so roughly that the tray was thrown from her head and went rolling to the sidewalk. It was the end of the world for that population of graven images. They fell in a heap of indistinguishable fragments, mingling their dust in a complete democracy of saints, politicians, lambs, the three graces, and even a model of a beautiful foot labeled Trilby. Little Samuel was past praying for, but he was no more thoroughly pulverized than the bust of Napoleon. Young Mr. Broughton felt stirring within him an essay on the frailty of mundane things. Then the air was torn with the lamentations of the woman.

"O Madonna!" Next she denounced the cause of the disaster, who was moving away. "Head of big, you are-a! Why-a you hit-a me? What I ever done at you-a? You break-a my image—I not eat-a more!" she rattled her finger nails along her front teeth to indicate the hunger which would be the consequence of the breaking of her stock in trade.

Meanwhile two bootblacks had seized the man by the elbows, and turning him around ran him back face to face with the woman. She stood wringing her hands and wailing. "What ruin! Poor-a me!"

The aggressor was evidently also an Italian.

"Soy!" one of the bootblacks said. "Youse has gotter reach down inter yee clothes an square up wid de dago loidy."

"He's a bloomin dago hisself," commented the other boy.

Broughton had been painfully composing a few phrases of such colloquial Italian as his Harvard studies of Dante had rendered possible to him, and now uttered them in a stiff and toneless accent. In effect, he said that it was necessary to pay the compatriot for that which was broken.

"I only got a ten cent-a, signor," said the offender, handing the coin to the woman. He was permitted to go in peace.

"Ten-a-cent-a! Madonna mia! For so much image!" sobbed she.

So Broughton put $1 into his own hat and passed it around among the throng that had been attracted by the noise. When he gave the collection to the woman, she wiped her eyes, kissed his hands with many benedictions, and went her way.

Broughton's assignment had taken him in the direction of Mulberry bend. As he returned through that quarter he saw a hundred yards in front of him a woman with a tray of images on her head. He quickened his pace and soon was near her. It was the same Italian; she had replenished her tray with more saints and heroes and graces. "So it is," mused young Mr. Broughton—who still trailed clouds of the glory of journalism—"that in this world no one is indispensable. One perishes, another replaces him!"

Just then, swaggering around a corner, appeared the former breaker of images, and again, as if on purpose, he swung his arm rudely against the woman. As before, a crash, lamentations and a crowd. The dwellers of Mulberry bend, themselves well acquainted with poverty, gave of their few copper coins to her, who sat wailing among the ruins of her wares. They helped her to pick up such of the casts as were not irre-diably broken and to replace them on the tray. This time Broughton did not stay to act as consoler. The aggressor had walked off rapidly, and the reporter followed him. After five minutes' chase they turned into an unspeakably dirty alley, where the Italian entered a doorway without noticing that any one pursued him. Broughton, having made sure that he should recognize the house again, hastened to the nearest police station and told the story.

"She was a quiet, decent little body," he said to the officer. "That great, hulking brute struck her on purpose the second time, even admitting that the first time might have been by accident."

Two policemen were detailed to accompany Mr. Broughton, who was known to the chief of the station, and he led them straight to the door where the Italian had entered. Up the dark and broken stairs they climbed. Broughton shrunk from contact with the slimy walls. It seemed to him that evil odors were depositing themselves there in a pestilential fungous growth. At last they emerged upon a landing. A child leaned over the baluster of the story above. Broughton tossed him a nickel.

"My little man, is there an Italian living in this house?"

The child picked up the coin and stared in silence.

"Say, kid, is dere a dago here?" one of the policemen translated.

The boy pointed with a thumb to a door at the left of the landing where the three men stood. Broughton felt the thrill of the righteous avenger. The malicious brute who had twice destroyed the wares of the poor little image vender would soon be sent to the island. And a good riddance for the community. One of the police opened the door, and they entered. They saw at one side of the room a long workbench, covered with plaster images. The iconoclast sat there, carefully mending a broken figure. The woman was leaning over his shoulder, laughing as they chatted in their own language.

"Eh, I always say it, Pietro, you have a holy hand at mending them! If not, we might lose by the game."

"I don't say, Marianna, that St. Samuel is better than new, but at least he will stick until he takes another tumble."

"So that was their trick! A piece of real Neapolitan cunning. Broughton decided that he ought to have seen through it sooner. The woman caught sight of the visitors, and ran forward with hands clasped: "We ain't done-a noddin'." she pleaded. "Dis our beez-a-ness. We all-a-right-a."

"Yes, you're all right," said Broughton impulsively. "It was my mistake. I owe you a dollar for it." And he laid a silver dollar on the work bench of the maker, breaker and mender of images. The Italian looked up with a real Neapolitan smile, radiant, many toothed, wide and irresponsible.

"Tell me about it," said the reporter.

"You not give-a me 'way, gent'men cops?"

"No. Go on."

"Look, it like-a dis. We not sell image. And I say, you hear-a me, Marianna, we get more money to break all! She carry de image. Den I come-a with grand-a force-a. Patatrae! All ruin-a! A-a-a-ar me! Dat, Marianna. A-ah, poor! Dat people! Somebody take-a money in hat. Don't-a cry, poor woman! After, I mend-a what-a can. After, I, Marianna, babies, all eat. See?"

All this time the wife stood with four rather clean and very beautiful children clinging to her skirts, and peeping shyly at the strangers. How could Broughton or any one else blame this happy family?

Indeed Broughton has never formulated his views upon the case, although he used to take social problems very seriously. Whenever he meets Pietro in the street they exchange a glance of intelligence. Sometimes the Neapolitan, by a quick gesture, indicates Marianna farther along the avenue.

And then Broughton, if he has time, assists at the —nth performance of the comedy of the iconoclast.—Elizabeth Pullen in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The French Capture of Malta.

Yes, it was a sanguine expedition "which, all unconsciously of its danger, sailed away for Malta." The geographical situation of that island makes it in proper hands the citadel of the Mediterranean, the bulwark of Christendom against heathendom. But the military monks to whom it had been intrusted had grown corrupt and licentious.

French agents had already been among them, and such was their timidity at the approach of Bonaparte that after the merest show of resistance to his demands the gates of an almost impregnable fortress were dishonorably opened to the French republic without a blow. Waiting only to garrison this easy conquest, Bonaparte hastened on, and the entire fleet in good condition anchored off Alexandria on June 30. With a few casualties the troops were landed, and the vessels were left to cruise along the shore and to destroy the English when they should appear.—Professor Sloane's "Life of Napoleon" in Century.

Waterproofing.

To make materials waterproof, mix together one pound of sugar of lead and one pound of alum, pounded separately, and pour over it 2 quarts of boiling water. Let stand for six hours and bottle for use. It should be applied with a sponge or soft brush until the material is thoroughly wet. It should then be ironed and hung up to dry.

Rain and Railway Tracks.

Locomotive engineers like to have the tracks watered occasionally by a good heavy rain, as they get glossy after a long period of dry weather and the wheels will not take hold, just as the knife grinder's wheel will not take hold unless it is kept wet.

PAYS FOR HIS PASSES.

A Lawyer Buys Seats at the Theater by the Month.

Newspaper readers have often been told how vain young men will spend $5 in jollying a showman in order to obtain a pass to the theater worth not to exceed $1 at retail. There is no doubt that the pass habit represents a strange infatuation, says Buffalo Inquirer. There is a lawyer in this city who is not satisfied with being the recipient of passes. He likes to issue them himself. He considers that it adds to his importance to be able to write for a friend an order for a couple of theater seats which will be honored at the box office. So he has an arrangement with one of the play houses by which he may write as many passes as he pleases over his own signature. The orders are taken up at the office and the regular tickets issued in their place. The gratified recipient gains the impression that the lawyer is a stockholder in the theater. In reality, he pays for the seats at regular rates, a bill being rendered to him monthly. It is a harmless fad, though rather an expensive one.

Spiders in History.

Spiders have played a greater part in history than most people are aware of. Everybody knows how the perseverance of a spider encouraged Robert Bruce to regain his kingdom of Scotland, but not so many know that according to Jewish tradition a spider saved David's life. Saul was hunting for him, and his soldiers approached a cave where David was hidden. Shortly before, however, a spider had spun her web at the mouth of the cave, and the soldiers, taking it for granted that if he had taken refuge in the cave he must have broken the web, departed, forgetting the web might have been spun after as well as before his entrance. A spider saved the life of the grand-uncle of the German emperor. Frederick William was king of Prussia, and an attempt was made to poison him in a cup of chocolate. By chance a spider fell into the cup, and for this reason the monarch gave the chocolate to a dog, who immediately died. Inquiry was made, with the result that the cook was hanged, and a large spider wrought in gold now decorates one of the chief rooms of the winter palace at Potsdam in memory of the king's escape.

Reduced Rates to Baltimore.

On account of the meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union at Baltimore, July 18 to 21, the B. & O. R. Children's Fear of Animals.

So far as I can ascertain, facts are strongly opposed to the theory of inherited fear of animals. Just as in the first months a child will manifest something like recoil from a pretty and perfectly innocent pigeon, so later on children manifest fear in the most unlikely directions. In the Invisible Playmate we are told of a girl who got into her first fright on seeing a sparrow drop on the grass near her, though she was not the least afraid of big things, and on first hearing the dog bark in his kennel said, with a little laugh of surprise, "Oh! coughing." A parallel case is sent me by a lady friend. One day when her daughter was about four years old she found her standing, the eyes wide open and filled with tears, the arms outstretched for help, evidently transfixed with terror, while a small wood louse made its slow way toward her. The next day the child was taken, for the first time, to the "Zoo," and the mother, anticipating trouble, held her hand. But there was no need. A "fearless spirit" in general, she released her hand at the first sight of the elephant, and galloped after the monster. If inheritance plays a principal part in the child's fear of animals, one would have expected the facts to be reversed. The elephant should have excited dread, not the harmless insect.—James Sully in Popular Science Monthly.
